Reasonable Accommodations:
Workplace Supports for People with Disabilities

Session Agenda/Goals
• Discuss ADA provisions for reasonable accommodation for applicants and employees with disabilities
• Identify practical strategies for the provision of accommodations
• Provide accommodation resources
• Answer your questions

Accommodation Basics
Reasonable Accommodations

- Any change in the work environment or in the way things are customarily done that enables an individual with a disability to enjoy equal employment opportunities
- Equal employment opportunity: opportunity to attain same level of performance or to enjoy equal benefits and privileges of employment

When Can Accommodations Be Requested?

- Application process
- Performance of the essential functions of the position
- Enjoyment of equal benefits and privileges of employment

Accommodation Basics

- Must be an effective accommodation
- Need not be best accommodation, just effective
- Must only reduce employment-related barriers
- Employer not prevented from providing extra accommodations
Reasonable...
• Making modifications to increase facility accessibility
• Job restructuring
• Flexible scheduling
• Acquiring new equipment
• Providing qualified readers and interpreters
• Modification of application and testing procedures and training materials

...Not so much!
• Eliminating essential job functions
• Lowering production standards applied to all employees
• Providing personal use items
• Changing an employee's supervisor
• Excusing violation of uniformly applied conduct rules
• Undue hardship

The Accommodation Process

The Interactive Process: Questions to Cover

- What are the specific essential functions the employee is unable to perform?
- What ideas does the employee have for accommodations?
- What documentation do you need to verify the need for accommodation?
- What accommodation will be effective?

The Interactive Process: Outcomes

- Facilitate a negotiation resulting in mutual agreement
- Explain what accommodation the employer is able and willing to provide
- Inform the employee about the employer’s inability to provide a reasonable accommodation due to undue hardship
Provision of Accommodations

• Develop expertise – know your accommodation resources
• Streamline the process
• Clarify sources of funding/centralize funding if possible
• Centralize tracking and reporting
• Clarify who has a role in the process
• Maintain confidentiality
• Coordinate communication with employee

Role of the Supervisor

People are 60% more likely to disclose to their supervisor
- Nishi & Bruyere, 2014

Engaging Supervisors

• Because of role, key gatekeepers of disability inclusiveness in the workplace
• Training is key!
• Make sure managers and supervisors recognize RA requests
• Importance of bringing new managers up-to-speed on accommodations already in place
Documentation

- Describe why documentation is needed (i.e., to verify existence of disability and need for accommodation)
- Identify the types of professional who can provide documentation
- Describe the type of information needed in the documentation
  - Has a covered disability
  - Functional limitations that the person experiences because of the disability
  - Suggested accommodations in the workplace
- If the information provided does not clarify, employer may send to professional of their choice

Confidentiality

- Strict legal limitations on use of medical information
- All medical information kept in file separate from personnel records
- Share medical information only on an as-needed basis
- Includes sharing information with coworkers
- Privacy issues & COVID-19

RA Implementation

- Don’t get bogged down with an overly burdensome documentation process!
- Provide training on the provided accommodation, if necessary
- Monitor implementation of the accommodation at regular intervals
  - Explore options if first accommodation is unsuccessful
- Document RA implementation process
- Keep in mind that RA responsibilities are ongoing
Common Issue: Coworker Resentment

- If asked about accommodations:
  - Acting for legitimate business reasons
  - Acting in compliance with federal, state, and local labor laws
  - Tries to support the needs of all employees
- Clearly communicate to coworkers that accommodation is not preferential treatment
- When possible, extend certain accommodations to all employees

Accommodations & COVID-19

Intersection Between ADA Rights & COVID-19

- Three main areas:
  - Disability-related inquiries and medical exams
  - Confidentiality and privacy
  - Reasonable accommodations
RA Issues re: COVID

• Personal protective equipment (PPE)
• Protecting at-risk applicants and employees
• Interactive process
• Temporary accommodations
• Modifications to RA when returning to the workplace
• Telework as an accommodation

A Few Publications...

• EEOC’s What You Should Know about COVID-19 and the ADA, the Rehab Act, and Other EEO Laws
• EEOC’s Pandemic Preparedness in the Workplace and the ADA
• EARN’s COVID-19 and Job Applicants and Employees with Disabilities

Undue Hardship

• Action that requires significant difficulty or expense - unduly costly, extensive, substantial, disruptive, fundamentally alters nature or operation of business
• In relation to size of the employer, resources available, nature of the operation
• Must be determined on a case-by-case basis
• IMPORTANT: Consider alternate accommodations that do not create undue hardship
Financial Facts

• Estimates suggest over 70% of employees with disabilities never request an accommodation
• Cost effectiveness: 58% of employers reporting cost data paid nothing*
• Average one-time cost: $500 ($400 for employee without disability)*
• 74% of employers report that accommodations are very or extremely effective*
